

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSER - This is a new type of bookmark which is designed to fit all different size books. It will keep your place. It will not fall out. It will help you know where you are if the book closes because it remains in place until you move it. The items used are all different types of small items. Mostly glass or plastic beads are used. Using different colors or same colors. The items used can take up no more than half the length of the elastic due to the fact that the elastic that goes inside the book must be free of any item so it will not damage the book in any way. The beads or charms are used to appeal to women, men and children. Some are pretty with pretty colors some are bold using beads that may appeal more to a male and some are made with brightly colored beads or items that appeal to a young reader. Seashells, miniature sports and religious items are also used to appeal to individual interests.

OATH OR DECLARATION - I declare that the utility patent application for Page-Keepers is my sole invention. I am the only inventor of this item. I am Francine Kay Marcus. I live at 5316 Chimney Swift Drive. Wake Forest, North Carolina, 27587. I am a citizen of the United States of America. This is my residence and mailing address. My phone number is area code 919 – 556-9054.

SIGNATURE OF INVENTOR

Francine Kay Marcus